Covid-19: One Year On

The Foundation's Covid-19 Community Response appeal launched at the beginning of March 2020, and thanks to overwhelming local support we were able to start getting funds out to charities and community projects immediately.

With established charities under pressure, a surge of volunteer-led effort ensured that vulnerable people across the region were able to access help with supplies of food, medicine, and other essentials to help them stay safe and well during lockdown.

A significant number of our existing fundholders contributed to our Covid-19 Sustainability Fund, alongside donations from national and government funding as well as donations from individuals from our local communities. This report covers the statistical data from grants made between March 2020 and March 2021.

Small grants of up to £5,000 to 361 community projects ensured that this urgent grassroots action could get underway without delay, providing vital breathing space while systems were put in place to identify and support the most vulnerable.

Larger grants of between £6,000 and £30,000 to 50 community projects were awarded to help them transition, develop or sustain their services.

Summary

More than £ 1,888,936 of Covid-19 funding has been awarded to 411 projects with almost 311,000 beneficiaries. This comprised small grants of up to £5,000 to provide essential services and activities, and larger grants up to £20,000 to help hub organisations transition or diversify to support a broader demographic or provide alternative means of support.

Geography

Of the 311,000 beneficiaries, more than 250,000 people were helped in Tees Valley and County Durham - more than one quarter of the population living in 'left behind' areas.

67% of funding was allocated to wards that are the most deprived 30% nationally.

WHERE THE MONEY WENT

Tees Valley	£ 1,062,928	56%
Durham	£780,158	41%
Tyne and Wear	£27,750	2%
Yorkshire	£12,500	1%
South Scotland	£ 5,600	<1

There are 34 wards in County Durham and Tees Valley classified as 'left behind'; 24 of those wards received over £250,000 in Covid-19 relief funding.

'LEFT-BEHIND' AREAS

7 of the top 10 'left behind' neighbourhoods (i) with the highest mortality rates from Covid-19 are located in North East England: in Sunderland, Middlesbrough and County Durham.

Unemployment has risen sharply, with 'left behind' neighbourhoods experiencing a faster rise in unemployment than elsewhere in the country. More than 31,000 people without work received advice from COVID-funded organisations.

Diversity

20% of overall funding (£383,850) was diversity-specific and provided grants to deliver services to particular communities who faced exclusion or isolation caused by inequality, for example services to people of colour who might be isolated or more at risk from Covid-19 (ii) or projects to support people put at risk because of the lockdown i.e. those at risk of domestic violence (iii).

During lockdown, the number of women killed by their partners in the UK rose from 2 a week to 5 a week. Through our Covid-19 funding, almost £68,000 has been directed at helping more than 2,300 victims of domestic abuse in County Durham and Tees Valley.

Themes

All awards were made under a Covid-19 theme, based on the activity involved and the proposed issue.

17% of funding was used to bridge the digital divide and keep people well and connected, which covered the provision of hardware and infrastructure to improve accessibility, as well online services and training and maintaining personal connectivity with potentially isolated people.

£ 553,514 provided practical support for isolated, vulnerable people such as the provision of food, health, care, and activity packs, or picking up of prescriptions and other delivery support services.

COVID-19 THEME	AMOUNT	BENEFICIARIES	%
Practical support for isolated, vulnerable people	£ 804,139	157,278	43
Supporting groups to adapt their service	£474,454	76,992	25
Loneliness, mental health & wellbeing	£ 294,086	45,748	15

Themes continued

£127,000 helped keep the lights on and the doors open for 22 centres, which provided services and support to almost 26,000 people.

Almost one third of organisations that received funding were managed by 1 staff member or by volunteers.

100 organisations were awarded £474,454 toward changing how they operated in order to provide services to the community

- Sanitisation and adaptation of buildings to meet social distancing, health & safety standards
- Organisation adapting the delivery of activities - moving them online or outside
- Organisations changing how they operate – luncheon clubs to delivery services

£265,401 was awarded to 63 projects to tackle food poverty with the distribution of food, food parcels, and hot meals.

An estimated 17,690 food parcels (iv) (including hot meals) have been provided that have benefited almost 92,000 people.

£173,600 of funding supported families and lone parents to help them through the lockdown.

38 organisations delivered services to 40,000 children.

There are relatively large numbers of lone parents, and pensioners living on their own, at greater risk of social isolation.

And a higher proportion of people providing unpaid care. 50,000 people who were struggling in isolation due to age, disability, serious health condition or special needs people received help from local organisations.

The Sustainable Development Goals

The Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) are a collection of 17 interlinked global goals designed to be a “blueprint to achieve a better and more sustainable future for all.”

The SDGs were set up in 2015 by the United Nations General Assembly and are intended to be achieved by the year 2030. At the Foundation we are working to align our grant making towards the SDGs.

To this end every grant awarded through the Covid-19 sustainability funding was assigned two SDGs – a primary SDG (SDG1) and a secondary SDG (SDG2).

Analysis of the assigned SDGs indicates that the two main development goals met through the funding are Good Health and Wellbeing and Reduced Inequalities.

SDG1 - £971,599 towards Good Health and Well-being

3 GOOD HEALTH AND WELL-BEING

SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT GOAL	AMOUNT	% OF FUND
